Cherry's: Proudly Made in the USA

All Cherry's-brand products are manufactured and assembled in the U.S. Not a single part is outsourced.

This is because we realize the importance of

- supporting our economy: all revenues from our operations stay in the U.S. helping fuel economic growth.
- creating jobs: we respect the need for jobs in this country, and with all our operations here, all our workforce is here, too.
- flexibility: we control the entire design and production process providing our customers with quicker response times and more options.
- better machines: we know our market better than anyone, so we can design and build better machines to fit your specific needs.

Thank you for your support in helping us to continue the great American legacy of quality craftsmanship at home.
